“ Doug, or Moose as we called him, was a good friend. We grew up together in Scott Depot. We spent our summers swinging on vines in the woods behind his house. I joined in his parents first meal with fresh sage sausage in the fall. He will be missed. Goodbye Moose & God Bless.

“ Doug and Dolores . . . the names stick together just like they did. Both were a sweet example of love, service, and faithfulness to each other and the Lord. They gave themselves cheerfully and without reservation to everyone who knew them. I will miss your broad smile and booming voice, and look forward to seeing and hearing them again in Eternity, my brother.
