“ John Addington, a name from the past

As an older person I always read the obits just to make sure I am not in them. This morning I got a shock as I recognized the name: John Addington. At first I wasn't sure as I would not have recognized him today but reading further, I knew it was him. Fifty-three years ago, I returned from Vietnam and my then wife with two kids and I rented a trailer in St. Albans as we had no other place to live. Our next-door neighbors were a young couple about the same age as us also with two kids. He was a young West Virginia State Trooper. It was John Addington, his wife Bobbie, a son Tony and daughter Angie.

We became friends for a time but as life moved on we moved out to a house and John was transferred to a more southern county near Huntington which escapes me at the moment.

The next year me, my then wife Rosalinde (who also passed last year) and the kids spent Thanksgiving Day with John and family. I did ride around in the cruiser with him later that day. As I remember that was the last time, I saw him. He was always working.

I had no idea he lived so near me here in the Hurricane area. I would have loved to see him again and catch up on our lives.

I have some old movies taken of Angie, Tony John and Bobbie which I transferred to video and I will have a copy for both of you.

I plan to visit the funeral home Tuesday as it is within walking distance of my home.

“ John was always fun to be around. After I moved to OH, I would get a call from to come pick him up at whatever place his truck was being unloaded. Sometimes I just took him home with me and fed him while we visited. One time I had Christmas shopping to do and John went along to advise me. Sometimes I would just look out my window to see his rig parked in my front yard. I never knew when he was going to show up. I will miss him. My thoughts and prayers are for God's comfort and peace for his family during this difficult time. Love to all.

“ Uncle John. Where do you start? My earliest memories are of him in his WV State Trooper Uniform. I'd want to wear his hat. His kids Tony and Angie were my cousins and I always enjoyed a visit with them. Later came Jodi, the baby and she was always happy and smiling. Now Angie's son is a Green Beret and Jodi is expecting her first child.

John was like the wind most of his life. He'd blow into town and just as quickly be gone. After he retired from the State Police he became an over the road truck driver.

He was always happy and singing. You never knew what to expect from him. He's always make you laugh.

He and his wife Ema enjoyed hunting together and other things, and they had a wonderful 18 years together. I was there the night they met. She rolled her eyes at his jokes and comedy but next thing I knew they went on a date. Soon after they were married.

He was a proud brother of Frank, Tom and Betty. He was protective of "lil sis" and would always check on her.

He died peacefully in his sleep at home on his 76th birthday with Ema at his side. He was one of a kind and will be missed at all family gatherings and events. Prayers for all of our family and his friends.

“ I have so many great memories of John and though some of them might scare some people to death I treasure all of them. 'Great man and inspiration to be around' is words he would look at me like I'd lost my mind if I said them to him, but they are absolutely true.

Over the years when I have lost people that meant a great deal to me John was always there to lend a better perspective on life and death. The world is a lesser place without John. There are five stages of grief; denial, anger, bargaining, acceptance and grief. I prefer the first two; I can't believe he's gone and it pisses me off. I am content to remain within the first two stages forever.

Heaven just got a lot more amusing with John there.

“ Just remembering when I was a kid and we would go to visit dad's family in Camden on Gauley. Being around our older cousins, John, Tom, Frank, and Betty was always a thrill for us. It's been many years since I've seen any of them, but the memories are still fresh in my mind. RIP John, and my condolences to the family.
