“ I do not know how you all became Carl's family at heart, but you have no idea what seeing your pictures with him and seeing how happy he was with you all is one of the most exceptional blessing I have ever received. Bryant Lee, Rooster, was my step-dad for more than a decade. More than that, he was my godfather from the day I was born. There was never a time in my life until he died, that I didn't know I always had a protector, a friend, and always knew I was the twinkle in his eyes. I have only warm memories of Carl who took to me, and then my son, as one of his own. Like his son, Carl's exterior often appeared rough, but that just covered the huge warm and loving and funny heart inside. I have thought often of him and was just telling my son about Carl last week. My mom lives and Florida and Rooster's death was so hard on all of us, we lost contact a few years after my son was born, but not before I got to see the smile on Carl's face the first time he met Corey Robert. To know through the end that he had family to share that love with, people to embrace and warm with his love, and people to smile with as he entertained with his humor is nothing less than a kiss from God above. I was out of town and don't know of his passing until returning. May God bless you, his family, as much as He was now blessed me, through you. We love you Carl and give Papa Roo a hug for me.

“ I had the pleasure of working with Carl at UPS. He was known as " the old man " for being the top seniority driver and was well liked by his coworkers. Wise and friendly he was-and no BS -well maybe a little--roll on my friend..
