“ It was only by accident that I discovered you had passed, that you had to fight the big C, and That you had one hell of a rough go at it. It was a tough thing to hear! You were one hell of a good guy and a great friend through doing business together during your Conrail days. You were always on my side and good to me....and I made sure to not let your trust in me down. I considered you a friend. We had some stinking good laughs. Reading what your kids & Mary wrote to you, here on your wall, brought rivers of tears to my eyes. Enjoy all the rewards that God and Heaven have planned for you. Maybe one day I'll see you up there and see you still hitting the little round white ball everywhere but in the fairway. Take care my friend.

“Dad, this still just doesn't seem real. I miss you so much it physically hurts. I never truly felt a broken heart until now. You were so much more than a father. You were my inspiration, my confidant and my best friend. You were an amazing grandpa to my boys and I will never stop telling them how much you loved them. Knowing you are gone and that we will never get to hang out in the garage and work together just makes me feel like the weight of the world is on my chest. I am so sorry this happened to you. It was too soon. What I would give to hear your voice again or give you a hug. I love you, my boys love you. You are missed so very much. Fly high and send us strength from above as we figure out this life without you.

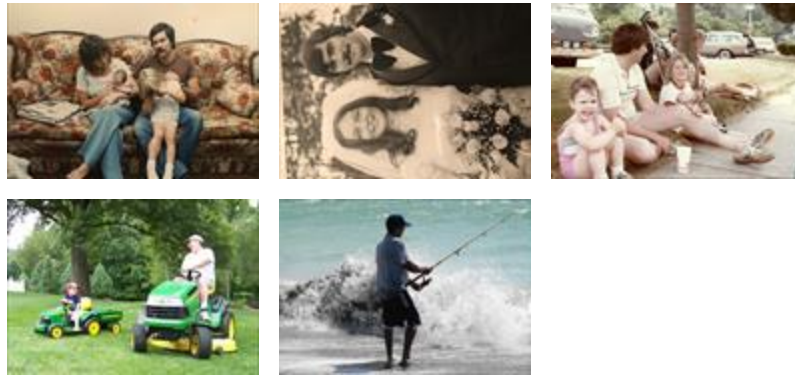

Love you,
Kath

“ My heart is broken for you all. Mr. Wilson was the best neighbor, friend, landscape consultant and jokester. If I had a gardening question he was my "go to" guy. He taught me how to plant grass and throw the seed like I'm feeding chickens. He would always tell me I was doing a good job when I was hacking away at my bushes. One time he was working outside and I yelled over...."Hey Mr. Wilsonnnnnnnn, whatcha doin in those bushes????" His reply was "Just leave me alone!!!" That is classic Mr. Wilson and it still makes me laugh every time I think about it. Whenever our dogs would be outside at the same time they would bark, bark, bark because they were bffs. He would yell over "Shut those dogs up" or something to that affect. Then I would yell back something sarcastic. It was pure comedy and he was perfect at portraying the "grumpy" role. I will always cherish my memories of him. Hey Mr. Wilsonnnnnnn I picture you in heaven riding on your John Deere giving me the thumbs up <3. Love, Fatty#2 (Alison)

There are no words to describe the pain that I feel now that you are gone. My heart is truly broken. You were so much more than just my dad. You were my friend, my mentor, the best grandpa my kids could ask for. The hole you left in our hearts will never be filled. Thank you for always being there for me and my boys. We love you so much dad, always and forever.
