“ James Lewis and I met with Frankie several times in the mid 60's. He was very helpful and gave us some good advice when we were first starting our band, The Tone Masters. I have always respected Frankie's talent as well as his work ethic. I am proud to have known him, and his memory will last with me until my last day...C P Farley

“ R.I.P. Little Frankie! I share many great memories with my friends of listening and dancing to your great music around the Charleston area (1970's). We were always so excited to walk in and see you and your band members there. Always a good time. Especially at the "After U" on Laidley Street. My condolences to your family and friends.

“ Not sure whether my note of a few minutes ago made it through the network -- but I do want to let you know of my own sorrow to know of your loss of Frank. Jennifer Rucker Givens was so kind as to forward me the obituary earlier this afternoon. I remember with gratitude all Frank meant to me especially during my entry into West Virginia and North Charleston -- particularly his mentoring and his encouragement to me in guitar-playing. Blessings to you in this time of celebrating his life and in grieving your loss of him. Grace and peace, John Goodman
