“ *I met Marie in 1988 when I married her baby brother Mickey. Despite the age difference between us, Marie welcomed me to the family with open arms. Marie did not have a mean bone in her body, and I never heard her say anything negative about anyone. She was the most loving, kind and caring person I know. She was a remarkable woman and the "rock" in her family. She persevered, with great sorrow and sadness through her parents illness and death; her brother Mickey's illness and death; her brother Gene's illness and death and most of all her husband Mitch's illness and death. She was one fine person and will sadly be missed. I have much peace regarding her passage because she is with the Lord now and reunited with her family whom she love so much. I Love You Marie!
