“ *In the last conversation we had, he told me that he cried when I got married and moved from the house in Charleston. That was 50 years ago.
All of his life, family was the most important thing to him. This love is his legacy.
I'm grateful for being a part of his life and knowing he kept on plugging along in spite of setbacks, loss and severe illnesses.*

“ One thing I'll always remember about my dad was no matter how sick he was no matter how his day was when you would ask him "How are you feeling today" he would always answer the same no matter who it was he'd smile and look at them and say "with my fingers" and I've heard it a million times to this point and it never once got old. I wish I could hear him say it a million more times.

Lesha, Kera, Doug, Shannon & Ryan...Brett & I are so sorry to hear about Glenn. Many good memories at the ball field. He always had a smile on his face, happy and so proud of his kids. He will be missed.
