

Harold Lee Ash

November 18, 1930 - August 14, 2024

Harold Lee Ash, 93, of Scott Depot, West Virginia, passed away peacefully Aug. 14, 2024. The son of the late Hobart and Hazel Ash, he was born Nov. 18, 1930, in Mammoth, West Virginia. He was also predeceased by his stepdaughter, Terry Lynn Young; brother, Hobert Don; and sisters: Evelyn and Shirley Ann.

He graduated in 1949 from East Bank High School, where he lettered in football and was captain of the championship baseball team.

Harold is survived by his devoted wife, Georgiann, whom he wed Dec. 26, 1976; son, Harold Steven and his wife, Carlotta, of Beavercreek, Ohio; daughter, Diana Lee Martinelli and her husband, David, of Morgantown, West Virginia; stepson, William Douglas Currence of Rincon, Georgia; five grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren.

He was a supervisor at Union Carbide/Rhone Poulenc, where he worked for 38 years. Known for his quick wit, easy smile and ready laughter, Harold enjoyed hunting, fishing and attending WVU football games in his younger years.

A celebration of life will be held at a later date.

“ I move away from Belle Acres in 2017, and I took memories with me of over twenty years of life there. Harold had such an easygoing nature and always a smile when you saw him. Much love from Jim Boggess, your old neighbor from two doors down.

“ Georgiann, I am so sorry to hear about Harold. I hope you are doing well through this. I know it is hard to face. Every time I think of Harold, I think of the song ---I fooled around and fell in love. God Bless You.
