“ Jack, my 1st cousin, was bigger than life to me as a kid. I'll always remember helping stoke the fireplace with lumps of coal so as not to interrupt the games of Rook being played at the table near the fire. Two of my brothers were near his age. Great memories, too, of him showing me how to swing out over Henson Hollow in the old tree swing, chain and rubber tire. Taught me to be adventuresome and courageous and I thank him and all the cousins for being who they were. Sincerely, George
