“ I had not seen Chris or John for 20 years since high school. A bearded IT guy was fixing my computer at work every day, and he never mentioned to me who he was. I have to say, I smacked his arm when I finally figured it out. He was a beautiful soul, and we shared many memories in conversation when he was at our office at Familycare in Teays Valley. I want his family to know that not only was he loved by family, but he was a beautiful person to everyone! I never heard him say a bad word about anyone, and he brightened our day every time he visited our office. I hated to see this news just now. This year is filled with more sorrow for us, but he is the winner and in a much better place. My prayers for all the family and I hope John is still playing guitar to play him a song now and then. ❤️🙏

“ I've known Chris my entire life, a first cousin and fellow Fraziers Bottom boy. Ten years older than me, he set out on a worthwhile course, one of the first in the family to earn a college degree, from Marshall University. A proud accomplishment.

He and brother John blazed a trail to Alaska with Grandma & Grandpa Crist, enjoyed holidays at their house, and discovered lifelong interests and careers.

Growing up I remember Chris' Atari and Commodore, floppy discs, rock albums and fascination with computer science. He worked hard as an entrepreneur and gladly shared his skills as the de-facto family IT guy.

He was a good racquetball player, loved sci-fi movies, helped raise a family of four and was an overall humorous and likable guy. He leaves a very positive legacy and will be missed by many people, including me.

“ Chris was the computer guy for my company for longer than I have been here. I can not say enough about how well he took care of us, mostly saving us from ourselves. Even more than that we never felt like we were bothering him, he was always so helpful and understanding. He felt almost like an employee here, like family. I will miss his smile and the conversations we had while waiting on a slow computer to reboot. My condolences to his wife, children, and family. His loss is felt by many.
