“ I am heart broken to hear this about the loss of Jamie Kay Collins. Jamie was my very first best friend. And Linda was a very great friend of my mom's. I didn't find out about her passing until today. So many wonderful memories at her house and mine when we were little. In her playhouse that Linda built with her own two hands. And in both of our crazy households. My family moved away when I was 9 but we kept in touch. She and Linda visited a couple times. I'll try to find the pictures. She visited when we were 15 and she was obsessed with Reba and we got our bellybuttons pierced while she was here. I am praying for her babies and grandbaby (and dad and brother) as I know what a light in this world she was. I know she is with her momma and Jeffrey now and I am so happy about that reunion, but I grieve with the rest of us that are left in the wake of the loss of Mami Kay on earth. Sending love and hugs and prayers to her babies, family, and friends now and forever.

“ Jamie was a big help to me when I needed it--cleaning house, and even decorating my Christmas tree when I wasn't able. I miss seeing her walking her little granddaughter up and down the street and saying hi to me. She will be missed here on Caroline Circle.

“ I absolutely loved growing up on Caroline Circle with you. We got into so much mischief. From spotlight, block parties, camp, blaring Reba, Brian McKnight, Stephanie Mills and Chicago! So many good memories! I know you would be the best mother and you were!! You always wanted a family of your own. You always had a house full like your momma did. You will be missed so much my friend. Fly high sweet girl! What a great reunion up there with your bubby and momma ❤️ I can only imagine!!
