“ I'm sorry I can not go to your funeral, I can not bring myself to see my brother for the last time. I want the last memory I have of you, to be smiling. I wish I had more memories with you. From the day you entered my life, I always thought of you as my sibling, even after Lu and Dad separated, you were still my brother. Every time I heard about the hardships and pain you were going through, my heart broke. How I wish we could have spent more time together, but that is my burden to live with. Please watch after all of us from up there. And say hello to Taylor and William for me <3 I miss you Joey.
