“ I moved next to Lil and Jim 27 years ago, they started out as neighbors and become family, you could not ask for better people. Lil was one of the hardest working women I have ever know. She loved her family and was always there for them. She had a talent with the gardening, her plants that she started in her garden in Scott Depot have been shipped all around the world and have touched many lives. She will be truly missed.

I remember one opening morning of deer season she got up and made us all a big breakfast, those where the biggest cat head biscuits I had ever come across I almost missed opening day because I was so full I almost did not make it up the hill. I also want everyone to know of the hard work and dedication Chris and Susan did to make sure Lil got to spend her final years at home and not some where else, they did exactly what family had to do.

God Bless you all.
