“ Hey mom, I feel like I needed to come here and share. No one really gets on here anymore and it's upsetting to think about, but hey I made it to 21 and I guess in a month and some change I'll be 22 time flies when ur constantly working. I wish I had your advice and guidance more and more every day. No one knows how much I miss you, I always have hidden that from everyone. I put up walls to survive the storm in my mind everyday but I'll keep fighting for the fact that you would have wanted me to. I love you mom idk if heaven is real but i really hope in some way u have been watching and im making you proud. Rest easy mom, I'll see you eventually.

“ Hey mom, it's been a while. There's nights that feel like I never wanna see the sun rise, the only thought is how much I want you to be the one the wake me up and tell me to get ready for the day. It's been almost 10 years.. almost a decade. You where 32 when you passed I'm just 11 years behind that age now.. I'm having a really hard time coming to terms with how I'm going to live up to make you proud. I honestly can't tell you how I've made it this far in life. I was only 11 when you passed and now I'm closer to your age. It doesn't feel real. I just wanted to let you know that im still fighting. Rachel has lost all of my respect by putting your name into it. I just wanted you to know I love you. That will never change no matter what people think. I'm trying to do what's best for me and I'm trying I really am. I'm hoping I'm making someone proud.

“ Hey mom, I tried a diary a while ago it didn't work and I just couldn't bring myself to come back here and share.. it's been really hard for me these past few years yet I keep a smile on my face. Im starting to understand what life is actually like how someone can put on a smile for people that need and when they're alone they completely break down, that's me right now. No one really understands what I'm going through yeah I know everyone has there stories and bad times and goes through problems but you know this is me and not everyone can relate to how I'm feeling. I wish you were here to tell me everything is gonna be okay but you're not and it feels as if it's not really worth it anymore smiling for people that could care less about me. Im trying I'm really trying without you it's so hard to get a grip on life for how it really is, it was so much easier when I had you to lean on but I don't anymore and I feel completely and ultimately alone even if I have family in my corner it doesn't feel like they would understand and just shrug away my problems I feel like I disappoint you in so many ways and that fact alone is unbearable I wanted to make you proud I wanted to make you happy and be successful but I can't I can barely stand and walk without feeling the weight of the world on my shoulders I'm dealing with a lot and I just bury it it's coming up on another year you've been gone and it's been rough this month knowing and reminding myself of how much I've failed you.. I'm so sorry mom I have a feeling it won't be long that no one will have to worry about me anymore. I love you I hope it's easier after you die I really do “ feels like the howl world is against me all my friends seem odly weird around honestly i think its just me feel like im crawling in my skin at the mention of school or late i feel pressure and ik that i cant do what the teachers ask at least not until i fully understand it. english and geometry are so hard my friend Eli well has tried to help me im just not a good listener. i got ALC as tough as that sounds it is, ill get suspended if i fall asleep, i dont want that but knowing me i will i wouldnt be in this stupid predicament if u were here u would be there and tell me its gonna be okay ofc u would make me go to sleep early but thats not the point. i would spend every second with you if u came back never letting go. im clinging on to the memory i have of u trying to fight my thoughts, im not strong enough to fight the thoughts that keep me awake at night and miss you and miss everyone and always pretend to smile and laugh, i cant do everything at once and what do u know it im trying too and its slowly breaking me down i miss having u to lean on i love u so much R I P.
