“ I met Sandy and her husband thru my husband Myron Mccallister who were good friends. They came to NC to visit. Up to this last Christmas Sandy and I sent cards and notes. I always felt the warmth of her kindness and caring to stay in touch. Thankyou Sandy,GOD bless

“ Sandy was one of my closest friends in high school and bridesmaid at my wedding. We talked not long ago about learning to live alone after the deaths of our sweet husband's. I did not know she had health concerns. She never mentioned problems, only happy things, family, church and hobbies. My world is not as bright without knowing she was still sewing and laughing in West Virginia. May her memory be a blessing.

Thank you for your kind comments. That's the way mom was. Mom's sickness was rather sudden although she did have a few health problems that did play a role in things being more serious. Her memory is indeed a blessing Connie.

“ Miss Sandy was one of the most beautiful souls I’ve ever met. Although I didn’t get to know her for a lot of years, she never failed to make sure I knew I was part of her family, although we are no blood relation. I thankful for the holidays & other times we got to spend together, laughing and giggling and talking about everything under the sun with Mandy. She certainly will always have a special place in my heart and never be forgotten. Many prayers go to the family & those left behind & I can’t wait to see her once I get to Heaven. ❤️
