“ I'm Axle Ramsey, step son of Seth James Petersen, but he was with me long enough to be my second dad. I loved him so much, he never deserved what happened to him. Just the fact he was a fireman showed how much he cared about my family and the community. 34 was such a young age for when he died, and how much of a good person he was. If something like this happens to you, let people know, they'll help you through it.
