“ I was sitting with Sondra's granddaughter Kendall watching her barbie show and she was asking me about mixing different colors together to form new colors. Well of course Miss Kendall stumped me on a question and while I was thinking of the answer she quickly replied with sparkle in her eyes "if Nonnie was down here and not up there, she'd know because Nonnie was smart". It really touched me! Sondra Payne was very smart, yes I knew her most likely the least amount of time of anyone recording a memory on here but to know Sondra for even a day was long enough to know that she loved life, she loved her family! Sondra Payne was smart indeed, she raised a beautiful strong daughter and now her daughter is raising Sondra's beautiful and strong granddaughter. Sondra will never be forgotten by so many but she will forever live on in her legacy of love passed down to her girls!
